Every tax is objectionable, with orders to sliow no one to take his sent but in choosing from them all the one most unless he was in full accord with the Rejust and equitable, we think it is that which publican authorities. But that was in reis placed upon income. While the owner of construction days, and Louisiana and Arunprofitable land is driven to desperation kansas were conquered provinces. New to get the money to meet his taxes, the rc. Hampshire, however, has always been a cipient of an income ex vi termini has it in "loyal," sovereign State, which has never hand. While the assessor may exaggerate fisagged in its unionism, and which, in fact, values, the return of the income is has scarcely ever failed in its adherence to a subject about which it is almost impos. Radiealism. Yet, in a State with such a re sible to do injustice to the tax-payer. Those coal as that, Bill Chandler is able, through who have much should pay much, and his tools, to seize on its State house, place those who have little should pay little, and the building in charge of police, capture such is the liberality of the law that the the Legislature and elect a Governor; and most ample exemptions and exceptions are emboldened by his success, his party is now made so as to give every man enough tolive preparing to execute a similar stroke in upon in a moderate way, while the laborer

the income tax, the preparation of a regular form in which each tax-payer shall be required to put down in detail als gross inome, as specified by the statute, and there from make in detail all the deductions allowed by law. It should be the duty of the Commissioner to go over these with the tax-payer, and in case of doubt an part of the tax-payer to answer interrogations, the Commissioner should be authorized to assess the incomat such sum as he thinks proper, subject to an appeal by the tax-payer to the Court for an investigation of the facts. In this war we believe tax-payers who are now embarrassed to know what is right, would be relieved of their embarrasement, and those who desire to "whithhold more than is meet" would have their conscience quick. nized and met.

THE SOUTH AND WEST COMPARED. The Manufacturers Record, of Baltimore has done much to promote the development of the South, not only by its alertness and enterprise in laying before the public every kind of information that throws light on the progress which has been made, but by a spirit of supreme hopefulness which would often trench upon the lines of a visionary optimiem but for the fact that it is practically impossible to exaggerate the material prospects of the Southern States. The patriotic exultation of the Record when it rings the changes on the brilliant premise of the future of this section, is amply justified by the coldest calculation of the count less resources in every form which the South possesses.

In its last issue, our contemporary presente without comment, a tabulated state ment of the respective positions now occupied in a economic way by the West (including the Northwest) and the South, and the deductions to be drawn from this statement are so favorable to the South, that any anticipations, however apparently extravagant, as to the prosperity to which this sec tion must attain, are within the range of probability. It will be interesting to mention a few of the more prominent details referred to by the Record.

At this time, for instance, a very imporone of the most extensive and sangulary Indian wars that has ever broken out in this country at any period of its histery.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been use for children teething. It sootnes the child softens the gurns, allays all pain, cures wind this country at any period of its histery. The South, on the other hand, is from the Potomac to the Rio Grande in a state of profound peace, its people quietly engaged in pursuing their usual occupations.

From all sections of the far West are coming reports of severe blizzards, while in the South a mild and equable climate is expressing itself in warra rains or cheerful sunshine.

In time for coughs, colds, cro., consumption, bronchitis, hoarseness, a 1 all throat and lung troubles, that old-fash, ned throat end lung troubles, the contract end to the lung troubles, the lung tr

Mortgages are weighing down the West ern lands, and breaking the spirits of the Western farmers. The Southern lands are comparatively free from debt. A majority of Western products are sell ing at prices that leave no margin for profit In the South, on the other hand, cotton.

sugar, rice, tobacco, fruits and vegetables commanding such handsome returns that it was largely due to the prices obtain able for these products that the recent stringency in the money market did not end in a disastrous panic.

The West and Northwest are remote from the principal American markets as well as from the chief markets abroad. The South is near to all the markets of the North, and lies directly upon the vast Atlantic waterway that leads to all the markets of Europe way that leads to all the markets of Europe.

The population of the West is made up of peoples drawn from every nationality, and in consequence is heterogeneous and antagosto. The white nonulation of the South for the white nonulation of the West is made up of Great Nerve Restorer. No fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and the south for the white nonulation of the South for the so nistic. The white population of the South is homogeneous, and it possesses in the negro race a population which it can use to the nighest industrial advantage under the quiet and conservative order of things now prevailing. The iron furnaces of the West are already, in many instances, reported to be going out of blast. New furnaces are being erected in the South to meet the increased demand for the conversion into iron and steel of the enormous additions to the amount of ore that are being constantly made by the open-up of new mines. While the industrial interests of the West are declining, those of the Southern States an immense advantage over the West and striking in 1890, what must it be in 1900? The answer to this question must be left to the imagination.

Coming immediately upon the heels of Bill Chandler's theft of New Hampshire in the East, and the attempted steal by Republicans of Nebraska in the West, is the bareaced effort of the Republicans to steal the Governorship of Connecticut. Although Judge Morris, Democratic candidate for lovernor, received over 3,000 more votes than his Republican opponent, the claim is made that certain irregular ballots counted for the Prohibition candidate cannot be thrown out, although the fatal defect in hos a ballots arese from the non-observance of an election law passed by a Republican Legislature and signed by a Republican Governor. By, in this way, nullifying their own laws, the Connecticut Republican lead rs hope to reverse the will of the people and by throwing the election of Governo in the Legislature choose a man as Chief Executive of the State who had been re ected at the polls by a large majority. This is another evidence of the despera ion to which the Republican party has seen driven by its overwhelming defeats of the past fall, and of the reckless means to dent to human existence, indicates the in power at all hazards. But the interest ing question arises, "How is it that Repu garded. The selection of a form of taxa- ilean schemers and plotters are thus able tion is ordinarily regarded in about the with impunity to contemptuously defy the same light in which the criminal in Utah expressed wish of the voters of the different regarded his right to choose the manner in States?" Such a scene as that recently en which he should be put to death, whether acted in New Hampshire was never before by shooting, hanging or decapitation. The witnessed in this country. True, General Connecticut.

What has become of the manhood of these States that the people can sit quietly by, rights by the boldest and most shameless political chicanery? This is a question which the whole country is interested. If can people was already a myth, at least so We suggest as a method for arriving at far as New England is concerned.
